- Our Vision -

Clearfield County in the future is a prosperous stable County with more job opportunities for its residents. People have been busily developing leadership skills and working together. The municipalities have tapped this resource and have been actively implementing their planned future. With better communication among municipalities and community groups, the county is buzzing with activity. After first maintaining its population level and becoming self-sustaining, Clearfield County has become a progressive, growing county.

Planning Works!

Mission Statement:
To provide appropriate planning services and to develop leadership so that all Clearfield County municipalities can begin to plan for their future.

WHAT IS A COMPREHENSIVE PLAN?

A comprehensive plan serves as an overall policy guide for the physical development of a municipality.

The path to a brighter tomorrow

WHY PLAN?

In 20 years, will your municipality be a place where your children or grandchildren will want to live?

What kind of community will it be?

Will there be enough jobs?

What kind of housing will be available?
WHO DOES PLANNING?

EVERYBODY!

- Businesses
- Individuals
- Families
- Churches
- Schools
- Government
  - Federal
  - State
  - County
  - Municipal

HOW DO MUNICIPALITIES PLAN?

1. The municipal governing body decides it wants to plan.

2. The municipality needs to solicit public input.

3. Municipality needs to decide how to fund the plan. If financial assistance is needed, municipality will have to complete required surveys to obtain state funding.

4. The municipality designates a planning agency.

5. Municipality selects a consultant to develop the plan.

6. Funding is obtained.

7. Public meetings are held to create a vision of how the municipality wants its future to look.

8. The Comprehensive Plan is completed.

9. The Plan is implemented through:
   a. Budgeting
   b. Zoning
   c. Infrastructure development

10. Because a Plan should be a “living document” (that is, it should evolve to respond to community changes), the municipality must continually re-evaluate and update the Plan.
IS A SUBDIVISION AND LAND DEVELOPMENT ORDINANCE THE SAME AS ZONING?

NO!

ZONING  SUBDIVISION

WHERE  HOW

Zoning is a tool a community may use to regulate the use of land and the location and intensity of development.

In contrast, a subdivision and land development ordinance regulates how the land is to be physically divided and developed.

WHAT IS A SUBDIVISION AND LAND DEVELOPMENT ORDINANCE?

A Subdivision and Land Development Ordinance (SALDO) is a local law passed by either a county or a municipality to regulate the subdividing and developing of land.
WHY HAVE A SUBDIVISION AND LAND DEVELOPMENT ORDINANCE?

A subdivision and land development ordinance (SALDO) offers counties and municipalities a degree of protection against unwise, poorly planned growth. A SALDO also protects the property values of all land owners, as well as the interests of developers.

WHAT IS A SUBDIVISION?

A subdivision refers to the creation of lots or to the changing of lot lines.

EXAMPLES:

I want to give my child a piece of ground from my farm. Is this a subdivision?

YES

I want to build condominiums on my land. Is this a land development?

YES

WHAT IS A LAND DEVELOPMENT?

A land development involves the construction of public or private improvements to land.
Protecting remaining resources from destruction; and Planning developments in a coordinated manner to avoid the creation of future problems.

NOTE: The benefits listed above, as well as various standards and requirements found elsewhere in the Clearfield County Subdivision and Land Development Ordinance, are not intended to be a consumer guarantee.

However, they are intended to serve as guidelines and minimum requirements for use by the Planning Commission, local government agencies and other interested groups and individuals.

For more information or to obtain a copy of the Clearfield County Subdivision and Land Development Ordinance, contact the Clearfield County Planning Department.

What are the benefits of having a subdivision and land development ordinance?

Benefits to the lessee or purchaser include:

The creation of accurate descriptions of land sold;

Assurances that soils are satisfactory for home sites and sewage disposal, and that adequate steps are taken to prevent soil erosion and sedimentation;

Assurances that lots will either abut a public road or have access via a right-of-way agreement that also sets forth responsibility for maintenance;

Assurances that the sources of public water are identified and that suitable easements are provided to reach the land;
Assurances that roads will be adequate to provide fire and ambulance protection, and that fire hydrants will be provided in large developments; and

A minimum of hidden expenses by placing the burden of providing necessary facilities on the developer, or by clearly stating on the plan who is responsible for such facilities.

Benefits to the Subdivider or Developer include:

Accurate descriptions of the soils and the limitations of the soil on the land being subdivided;

Assistance in the design of the development in the form of recommendations by experienced staff;

The transfer of all costs of the development to the purchaser through the purchase price;

The establishment of clear responsibility for right-of-way maintenance easements and ease of permit issuance, thereby reducing the potential for expensive litigation when such issues are not considered;

Benefits to the Municipality include:

- Informing the municipality of the needs of proposed future developments;
- Assuring that road construction criteria are clearly established and obtaining the acknowledgment of the developer of his responsibility;
- Assuring adequate rights-of-way and setbacks;
- Preventing the imposition of major development costs upon the municipality;
- Assuring that emergency equipment can reach all lots;
- Reducing or eliminating the possibility of floods, mine subsidence, erosion, pollution, or lack of adequate water pressure;

The reduction of disputes over land ownership by requiring an accurate survey; and

The compliance by all landowners to protect the value of property.

20 Clues To Rural Community Survival

Does your community have what it takes to remain a vibrant, healthy community for years to come?

Rural communities with a future
tend to exhibit the following 20 signs:

1. Evidence of community pride.
2. Emphasis on quality in business and community life.
3. Willingness to invest in the future.
4. Cooperative community spirit.
5. Participatory approach to community decision-making.

6. Realistic appraisal of future opportunities.

7. Awareness of competitive positioning.

8. Knowledge of the physical environment.

9. Active economic development program.

10. Deliberate transition of power to a younger generation of leaders.

11. Acceptance of women in leadership roles.

12. Strong belief in and support for education.

13. Problem solving approach to providing health care.

15. Strong presence of traditional institutions that are integral to community life.

16. Attention to and well-maintained infrastructure.

17. Careful use of fiscal resources.

18. Sophisticated use of information resources.

19. Willingness to seek help from the outside.

20. Conviction that, in the long run, you have to do it yourself.

These 20 Clues are taken from the Heartland Center for leadership Development's "Clues to Rural Community Survival," a research report profiling healthy midwestern communities.
